This child care project started over ten years ago and is focused on orphans and vulnerable children. The project is involved with around 150 children from grade one through to university level.

Every two months the leaders meet with the guardians of the children, working together with them on the children's development.

Children with HIV receive extra help with food supplements etc. Help is given to purchase school uniforms, school bags and so on.

The programme has reached the stage where children are now finding work at the end of their schooling and are volunteering as programme leaders.

This church based ministry is highly regarded by the community in general.

A Foundations for Farming programme is being piloted with a view to developing greater financial independence.

Patrick and Grace have developed a ministry that has impacted many and the emerging generation of leaders is committed to continuing their work.

Patrick and Rosemary are Zambians who have been working in Mozambique since the start of the project. They are members of a Zambian mission group and have proved to be faithful, efficient and committed over this period of time. They went to Maputo almost 25 years ago. Mozambique is a country slowly recovering from a long and damaging civil war and the Mulengas have made a very positive contribution where they are but have now reached retiral age and are returning home to Zambia. Over the years however they have developed and trained a new generation of leaders who are committed to taking this work forward.
